Thank You

The family of Karen Reece-Ritchie would like to express our sincere gratitude for all the love that has been shown to us during our loss. Thank you for all the food and flowers that were sent, for each one who called and visited, especially for each and every prayer that was prayed. We would like to say a special Thank You to Major Tom Hinzman, Brothers David Rose and Leonard Wilder for all the kind words that were spoken.

To Lana Baker, Gene Gray, Larry Gray, Rick and Tina Rose for the beautiful songs they sang, to Roseann Anglin for the gorgeous flower arrangements and to the Lakes Funeral Home and their staff.

May God Bless You All!!

Hospice Care Plus to Train New Volunteers Sept. 30

Berea, Ky., 13 Sept. 2017– Hospice Care Plus is hosting a training for new volunteers on Sat., Sept. 30, at its Compassionate Care Center in Richmond.

The training is for individuals who would like to help the non-profit organization provide care and support to individuals, caregivers and families. It's open to adults and teens age 14 and up. Jackson County volunteers are needed for home care patients in the county, and are also invited to volunteer at the Compassionate Care Center or in any of the six counties served by the organization.

Pre-registration is required. To register, contact Stefanie Manes, Volunteer Coordinator, at 859-626-9292 or hospice@hospicecp.org.

Manes says volunteers can help in countless ways.

"We always need people who are interested in supporting patients and families directly," said Manes. "But we also have a lot of openings for other types of indirect support, like computer work, answering phones, and working in our gardens at the inpatient center."

Joy, Hospice Care Plus's new therapy dog, is another reason new volunteers are needed.

"Joy is still very young, and it's helpful to have handlers to reinforce her training, take her around to visit patients and families at the Center and, sometimes, in their homes, and give her a play session or two," said Manes. "We'd love to add a few new handlers to the team. It just takes two-to-four hours a week, and she's such a pleasure to work with."

New volunteers can choose from general volunteering to specific programs, such as the Teen Volunteer Program, the Breakfast Club, Veteran-to-Veteran Volunteers and the Vigil Program.

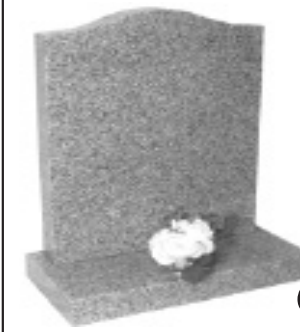

Regardless of what new volunteers choose to do, Manes says they can expect to find meaning and reward in their work.

"What I hear most often is that volunteers feel they get so much more than they give."

The New Volunteer Training equips participants with the knowledge and insight to work in areas like end-of-life care, caregiver support, and grief and loss. After the training, Hospice Care Plus staff meet with each new volunteer to help determine which role best meets their needs, interests and availability.
