Early Influenza Cases Reported

CDC recommends flu vaccine for all individuals aged six months of age and older.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (Sep. 15, 2017) – The Kentucky Department for Public Health (DPH) has received reports of two laboratory-confirmed influenza cases, indicating the presence of flu activity in Kentucky. The cases were from Jefferson County.

Beginning in October, DPH officials will begin to report weekly influenza activity to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) as part of statewide flu surveillance efforts.

Adequate supplies of flu vaccine are expected to be available for this year’s season. This season, only injectable influenza vaccine formulations will be distributed in the United States. Vaccination can be given any time during the flu season.

“Getting the flu can be debilitating and sometimes life-threatening, and vaccination is the best tool we have to prevent illness. It’s also extremely important to take simple preventive steps to avoid it,” said Hiram C. Polk, Jr., M.D., commissioner of DPH. “You should also follow the advice your parents gave you to prevent flu and other illnesses that tend to circulate at this time of year – wash your hands frequently, cover your mouth when you cough or sneeze and stay home when you’re sick.”

The CDC Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices recommends flu vaccine for all individuals aged six months of age and older. People who are strongly encouraged to receive the flu vaccine because they may be at higher risk for complications or negative consequences include:

- Children aged six months through 59 months;
- Women who are or will be pregnant during the influenza season;
- Persons 50 years of age or older;
- Persons with extreme obesity (Body Mass Index of 40 or greater);
- Persons aged six months and older with chronic health problems;
- Residents of nursing homes and other long-term care facilities;
- Household contacts (including children) and caregivers of children aged ≤59 months (i.e., aged aged ≥50 years);
- Household contacts and caregivers or people who live with a person at high-risk for complications from the flu; and
- Health care workers, including physicians, nurses, and other workers in inpatient and outpatient-care settings, medical emergency-response workers (e.g., paramedics and emergency medical technicians), employees of nursing home and long-term care facilities who have contact with patients or residents, and students in these professions who will have contact with patients.

Infection with the flu virus can cause fever, headache, cough, sore throat, runny nose, sneezing and body aches. Flu can be very contagious. For more information on influenza or the availability of flu vaccine, Kentuckians should contact their primary care medical provider or local health department.

Influenza information is also available online at <https://www.cdc.gov/flu/index.htm>.

TO THE CITIZENS OF JACKSON COUNTY

In July of 2000, Jackson County enacted a Mandatory Ordinance for Trash Pickup. The ordinance applies to every household in Jackson County. Anyone not on trash service can be cited for being out of compliance with this ordinance, which can result in a result in a court appearance a fine or both. It is also illegal to Burn Trash in Jackson County and can result in a fine.

Citizens who wish to haul their own trash may do so by registering at the transfer station as a self disposer. Once registered, they are required to pay on their first visit each month and can come in as many times as they choose for that month. Their name and weight totals are kept on file and updated on each visit.w

The cost as a self disposer is $12.00 per month or they have an option of paying $132.00 for a year in advance. If this option is chosen, they receive a free month of service in their service year. The trash weight limit is 300lbs per month. If this weight limit is exceeded, there is an additional charge of .04 cents per pound.

We also have (3) permitted haulers serving Jackson County residents and businessess in specific assigned areas. These haulers are permitted to haul trash in their permitted areas only. The cost for this service is $14.00 per month for each residence and customers are allowed to dispose up to (5)-33 gallon trash bags per week. It is the customers responsibility to keep trash secure at all times.

For more information on your assigned hauler, or to file a complaint against a hauler or a non-compliant resident, please call the transfer station at (606) 287-7688.
